"Rust"s central gameplay is available in both singleplayer and multiplayer modes. When playing on a server with other players, combat is enabled and players must fight or flee from other hostile players who are also scavenging for resources. If a player is killed by another player they will not be able to respawn until they have been to a specified area of the map which acts as the game's 'spawn point'.",

But this is only one part of Minecraft, the real fun part comes when players start to build furniture, create rooms, ships or even whole towns. In the beginning of the game players will probably only know how to mine for stone and wood. If they want to build something they have to find these items in the world. But there are other materials out there as well like gold, diamond and even iron.",

The specific hacks used by rust players are often used by other games, and as such have been modified to suit the needs of rust. Using these cheats can result in a game ban on the account in question, but as the game is still in early access this is not guaranteed. Facepunch Studios bans players for using cheats on their servers, however this does not apply to singleplayer and on private servers which do not use the official Facepunch credentials.",

You must be careful about what items go into your inventory because once it goes into your inventory, it cannot go back out unless you die and respawn at a new random spawn point. Another type of server is a Creative Server. This type of server focuses around the idea of you being able to build anything that your imagination can think of. You don't have to be creative in game; it's similar to Minecraft, but it allows you to be a lot more creative with the blocks and items in the game. There are many different types of servers where you can connect; if you feel like there isn't enough, another way you could connect is by using a private server. A private server is highly customizable and allows even more freedom than a public minecraft server because there are no other people connected to the world at the same time as you. You can make the server with your friends and do anything that you can do on a public minecraft server, but with more freedom.",
